POLICE COURT APPEALS

Attorney General

- v -

Christopher John Phillips

Appeal against a total sentence of six months imprisonment imposed in respect of eleven counts of forgery and criminally and fraudulently obtaining goods.

W. J. Bailhache, Esq., Crown Advocate.
Advocate D. J. Petit for the accused

BAILIFF: We are satisfied after reading the papers that the learned Magistrate took into account all that he could. You were fortunate you were not sent up here for sentence, otherwise, you might have been given considerably more.

You have a very bad record. You came to Jersey and indulged in these offences. You have been given a chance which you did not take, though for a short time you did. You reverted to your habits and you have to pay the penalty. We cannot say the Magistrate erred in principle or that the sentence was manifestly excessive. The appeal is dismissed. Legal aid costs.

No authorities.
