Summary

This decision considers whether the Scottish Ministers (the Ministers) complied with the technical requirements of the Freedom of Information (Scotland) Act 2002 (FOISA) in responding to an information request made by Mr Andrew Picken.

Background

1. On 20 July 2013, Mr Picken wrote to the Ministers requesting certain specified information.
2. The Ministers failed to respond to his request within 20 working days and, on 31 August 2013, Mr Picken wrote to the Ministers again, requesting a review in respect of their failure to respond.
3. Mr Picken did not receive a response to his requirement for review and, on 5 October 2013, wrote to the Commissioner's Office, stating that he was dissatisfied with that failure and applying to the Commissioner for a decision in terms of section 47(1) of FOISA.
4. The application was validated by establishing that Mr Picken had made a request for information to a Scottish public authority and had applied to the Commissioner for a decision only after asking the authority to review its response to that request. The case was then allocated to an investigating officer.

Investigation

5. On 10 October 2013, the Ministers were notified in writing that an application had been received from Mr Picken and were invited to comment on the application.
6. The Ministers responded on 23 October 2013 by providing a copy of a review response sent to Mr Picken on 22 October 2013. The Ministers did not make any other submission to the Commissioner.

Commissioner's analysis and findings

7. In their letter to Mr Picken of 22 October 2013, the Ministers apologised for the length of time taken to respond to his request, and explained that his request had not been correctly allocated upon receipt.
8. Section 10(1) of FOISA gives Scottish public authorities a maximum of 20 working days following the date of receipt of the request to comply with a request for information, subject to certain exceptions which are not relevant in this case.
9. Since the Ministers did not provide a response to Mr Picken's request for information within 20 working days, the Commissioner finds that they failed to comply with section 10(1) of FOISA.
10. Section 21(1) of FOISA gives Scottish public authorities a maximum of 20 working days following the date of receipt of the requirement to comply with a requirement for review, subject to certain exceptions which are not relevant in this case.
11. Since the Ministers did not provide a response to Mr Picken's requirement for review within 20 working days, the Commissioner finds that they failed to comply with section 21(1) of FOISA.
12. Given that the Ministers have now responded to Mr Picken's requirement for review, the Commissioner does not require them to take any further action in this case.

DECISION

The Commissioner finds that the Scottish Ministers (the Ministers) failed to comply with Part 1 of the Freedom of Information (Scotland) Act 2002 (FOISA) in dealing with the information request made by Mr Andrew Picken, in particular by failing to respond to his request and requirement for review within the respective timescales laid down by sections 10(1) and 21(1) of FOISA.

Given that the Ministers have now responded to Mr Picken's requirement for review, the Commissioner does not require them to take any further action.
