- (b) the business of a company consists mainly in the making of investments; and the company's income for any year of assessment includes a dividend the net amount of which would, if the company carried on such a trade as is mentioned in the said subsection (1), be required to any extent to be brought into account as a trading receipt which has not borne tax,—

- (i) the gross amount corresponding to so much of the said net amount as would have been required to be brought into account as aforesaid shall be left out of account in determining for the purposes of section twenty of the

Finance Act, 1953 (which relates to payments between associated companies in respect of losses), whether the company has any surplus for tax purposes during any period or what is the amount of that surplus ; and

- (ii) if any annual payment payable by the company is to any extent payable out of the said dividend, that annual payment shall be deemed to that extent not to be payable out of profits or gains brought into charge to tax, and section one hundred and seventy of the Income Tax Act, 1952, shall apply accordingly.

(3) Where the shares on which the dividend is paid were acquired by the said person or company before the sixteenth day of April, nineteen hundred and fifty-eight, the foregoing provisions of this section shall not apply to the net amount of the dividend except to the extent (if any) that, if the trade or business were such a trade as is mentioned in subsection (1) of section four of the said Act of 1955, the said amount—

- (a) would be required to be brought into account as aforesaid by virtue of the last foregoing section ; but
(b) would not be required to be so brought into account apart from that section.

(4) Where shares in a company were acquired by another company from a third company at a time when the three companies were associated, any question whether or to what extent a dividend on those shares was paid out of profits accumulated before the acquisition, shall, for the purposes of this section (but for no other purposes), be determined as if the acquisition had taken place at whichever of the following times is the later, that is to say—

- (a) the time when the shares were acquired by the said third company ;
(b) the time when the said other company and the said third company became associated ;

except that if the said third company had acquired the shares from a fourth company at a time when the four companies were associated, the foregoing provisions of this subsection shall have effect as if for the references in paragraphs (a) and (b) to the third company there were substituted references to the fourth company and for the reference in paragraph (b) to the said other company a reference to the third company ; and so on for any greater number of associated companies.

In this subsection “associated” means, as regards two companies, that one is a subsidiary of the other or both are subsidiaries of a third company, and, as regards three or more companies, that one is associated with each of the others ; and “subsidiary” has the meaning assigned to it for certain purposes of the profits tax by section forty-two of the Finance Act, 1938.

(5) Subsections (5) and (6) of section four of the said Act of 1955 (which make provision as to the time at which and the person by whom shares are to be treated as having been acquired), and the definitions of “company” and “share” in subsection (8) of that section, shall apply for the purposes of this section.

20.—(1) Chapter II of Part XVIII of the Income Tax Act, Settlements on children, 1952 (which relates to settlements on children), shall be amended in accordance with the following provisions of this section.

(2) In relation to a payment to which this subsection applies, the words “at the time of the payment” shall be substituted for the words “at the commencement of that year” in subsection (1) of section three hundred and ninety-seven of that Act (which relates to payments in any year of assessment to or for the benefit of a child who at the commencement of that year was an infant and unmarried) and for the words “at the commencement of the year of assessment in which the sum is paid” in paragraph (b) of subsection (2) of section three hundred and ninety-eight of that Act (which makes provision supplementary to the said section three hundred and ninety-seven).

(3) The reference in the said paragraph (b) to another sum previously paid to or for the benefit of a child who, at the commencement of the year of assessment in which it was paid, was an infant and unmarried, shall be construed, in relation to a payment to which this subsection applies of any such sum, as a reference to a sum so paid to or for the benefit of a child who at the time of the payment was an infant and unmarried.

(4) Subsections (2) and (3) of this section apply to any payment made after the year 1957-58, except a payment made in the year 1958-59 to or for the benefit of a child born after the sixth day of April, nineteen hundred and fifty-eight, and so made by virtue or in consequence of a settlement made before the ninth day of July of that year.

(5) In paragraph (ii) of the proviso to section three hundred and ninety-nine of the Income Tax Act, 1952 (which enables a settlement to be treated as irrevocable for the purposes of the said Chapter II notwithstanding that it provides for its determination, if the determination will not, during the lifetime of such a child as is mentioned in that section, benefit any person other than such a child, or the wife, husband or issue of such a child), for the words from “any person” to “issue of such a child” there shall be substituted the words “the settlor or the wife or husband of the settlor”.

(6) In relation to a settlement which would not have been irrevocable within the meaning of the said Chapter II but for subsection (5) of this section, the reference in paragraph (b) of subsection (2) of the said section three hundred and ninety-eight to the date when it became irrevocable shall be construed as referring to the sixth day of April, nineteen hundred and fifty-eight.

21.—(1) In subsection (1) of section four hundred and four of the Income Tax Act, 1952,—

(a) the references to a power to revoke or otherwise determine a settlement or any provision thereof shall be deemed to include references to any power to diminish the amount of any payments which are or may be payable under the settlement or any provision thereof and to any power to diminish the amount of any annual payments which the settlor or the wife or husband of the settlor is or may be liable to make by virtue or in consequence of any provision of the settlement ;

(b) the references to the settlor or the wife or husband of the settlor ceasing to be liable to make any annual payments payable by virtue or in consequence of any provision of the settlement shall be deemed to include references to a diminution of the amount of any such annual payments which the settlor or the wife or husband of the settlor is or may be liable to make ;

but the sums to be treated under the said subsection (1) as the income of the settlor for any year of assessment and not as the income of any other person shall, where that subsection would not apply but for paragraph (b) of this subsection, be such part only of the sums payable as aforesaid by the settlor or the wife or husband of the settlor in that year as corresponds to the diminution mentioned in that paragraph.

(2) In subsection (2) of the said section four hundred and four the references to a power to revoke or otherwise determine a settlement or any provision thereof shall be deemed to include references to—

(a) any power to diminish the property comprised in the settlement ; and

(b) any power to diminish the amount of any payments which are or may be payable under the settlement or any provision thereof to any person other than the settlor and the wife or husband of the settlor.

(3) Subject to subsection (4) of this section, the foregoing provisions of this section shall apply for all the purposes of income tax for the year 1958-59 and subsequent years of assessment and also for estimating an individual's total income for the purposes of surtax for the year 1957-58.

(4) Where, in the case of any settlement made before the sixteenth day of April, nineteen hundred and fifty-eight, any sums payable by the settlor or by the wife or husband of the settlor, or any income arising under the settlement, would, by virtue of the foregoing provisions of this section, fall to be treated (whether for purposes of surtax or for all the purposes of income tax) as the income of the settlor and not as the income of any other person, but would not fall to be so treated apart from those provisions, the sums or income shall not be so treated if—

- (a) no power by reason of which they or it would fall to be so treated has been exercised after the fifteenth day of April, nineteen hundred and fifty-eight, or is or can become exercisable after the fifth day of April, nineteen hundred and fifty-nine, or such later date as the Commissioners of Inland Revenue may in any particular case allow; and
- (b) neither the settlor nor the wife or husband of the settlor has received or is entitled to any consideration or benefit in connection with the fulfilment of the condition set out in paragraph (a) of this subsection;

or if, in the case of a settlement to which subsection (1) of the said section four hundred and four applies by virtue of subsection (1) of this section, the settlement was entered into in connection with any judicial separation or any agreement between spouses to live separate and apart or with the dissolution or annulment of a marriage.

(5) For the removal of doubts it is hereby declared that sections four hundred and four and four hundred and five of the Income Tax Act, 1952 (which re-enact, without amendment, the provisions of subsections (1) to (4) of section thirty-eight of the Finance Act, 1938), apply and always have applied in relation to any settlement in relation to which the said section thirty-eight would have applied but for its repeal by the said Act of 1952, that is to say, in relation to any settlement, wherever made.

22.—(1) If and so long as the terms of any settlement (wherever made) are such that any person has or may have power, whether immediately or in the future, and whether with or without the consent of any person—

discretionary power for benefit of settlor, etc.

- (a) to pay or apply to or for the benefit of the settlor or the wife or husband of the settlor the whole or any part of the income or property which may at any time arise under or be comprised in the settlement; or
- (b) to secure the payment or application to or for the benefit of the settlor or the wife or husband of the settlor of the whole or any part of that income or property;

being a power exercisable at his discretion, any income arising under the settlement in any year of assessment or, as the case may be, any income so arising from the property comprised in the settlement or from a corresponding part of that property, or a corresponding part of any such income, shall (so far as it is not so treated apart from this section) be treated for all the purposes of the Income Tax Acts as the income of the settlor for that year and not as the income of any other person, subject however to the following provisions of this section.

(2) Where the power mentioned in subsection (1) of this section cannot be exercised within six years from the time when any income or class of income first arises under the settlement or from the time when any particular property first becomes comprised in the settlement, then, so long as the power cannot be exercised, that subsection shall not apply to any income arising under the settlement or, as the case may be, any income of that class or income from that property or property representing that property.

(3) Where, under the proviso to subsection (2) of section four hundred and five of the Income Tax Act, 1952, the settlor is not deemed to have an interest in any income arising under or property comprised in the settlement, subsection (1) of this section shall not apply to that income or, as the case may be, to income arising from that property.

(4) Subject to subsection (5) of this section, the foregoing provisions of this section shall apply for all the purposes of income tax for the year 1958-59 and subsequent years of assessment and also for estimating an individual's total income for the purposes of surtax for the year 1957-58.

(5) Where, in the case of any settlement made before the ninth day of July, nineteen hundred and fifty-eight, any income arising under the settlement would, by virtue of the foregoing provisions of this section, fall to be treated (whether for purposes of surtax or for all the purposes of income tax) as the income of the settlor and not as the income of any other person, but would not fall to be so treated apart from those provisions, it shall not be so treated if—

- (a) no power by reason of which it would fall to be so treated has been exercised after the eighth day of July, nineteen hundred and fifty-eight, or is or can become exercisable after the fifth day of April, nineteen hundred and fifty-nine, or such later date as the Commissioners of Inland Revenue may in any particular case allow; and
- (b) neither the settlor nor the wife or husband of the settlor has received or is entitled to any consideration or benefit in connection with the fulfilment of the condition set out in paragraph (a) of this subsection.

(6) This section shall be deemed to be included in Chapter III of Part XVIII of the Income Tax Act, 1952, and to precede section four hundred and six thereof, and the references in subsection (1) of section four hundred and seven and subsection (2) of section four hundred and eight of that Act to section four hundred and four thereof shall be construed as including references to this section.

—cont.

23. The provisions of the Sixth Schedule to this Act shall have effect for extending the time limits specified in the enactments mentioned in that Schedule. Time limits.

24.—(1) Where, after the passing of this Act, incorrect accounts are submitted to the surveyor or any Commissioners in connection with the ascertainment of a person's liability to income tax for any year of assessment, that person shall be liable, subject to the following provisions of this section, to be proceeded against as mentioned in paragraph (a) or (b) of subsection (3) of section twenty-five of the Income Tax Act, 1952 (which imposes penalties on persons failing to make certain statements), and the amounts mentioned therein shall be forfeited and recovered accordingly. Penalty for incorrect accounts.

(2) Proceedings under the said subsection (3) shall not be taken against the same person both by virtue of this section and apart from this section in respect of the same year of assessment.

(3) Where a person discovers that accounts submitted in connection with the ascertainment of his liability to income tax are incorrect and he submits a statement rectifying the accounts, no proceedings shall thereafter be taken against him by virtue of this section in respect of the accounts.

(4) In proceedings taken against any person by virtue of this section it shall be a defence to prove that the accounts were submitted without his consent or connivance.

(5) Where accounts for a period not exceeding a year are submitted in connection with the ascertainment of a person's liability to tax for more than one year the penalty recoverable by virtue of this section shall be recoverable in respect of such one only of those years as the Commissioners of Inland Revenue may elect.

PART IV THE PROFITS TAX

25.—(1) As from the beginning of April, nineteen hundred and fifty-eight, the profits tax shall be charged on the profits arising in any chargeable accounting period from a trade or business to which section nineteen of the Finance Act, 1937, applies at the rate of ten per cent. on the amount of those profits, Change of rate, and basis of charge.

subject to the provisions for abatement in section thirty-three of the Finance Act, 1947, but without any relief for non-distribution or any distribution charge for chargeable accounting periods ending after the beginning of that month.

(2) Section sixty-nine of the Finance Act, 1948 (under which certain payments between interconnected companies, though not allowable as deductions in computing the profits of the payer, are to be included in computing profits of the recipient), shall not have effect for the purpose of computing profits or losses for any chargeable accounting period ending as aforesaid.

(3) The transitional provisions contained in the Seventh Schedule to this Act shall have effect in relation to the foregoing provisions of this section.

26.—(1) The following provisions shall cease to have effect, namely,—

- (a) the proviso to sub-paragraph (1) of paragraph 7 of the Fourth Schedule to the Finance Act, 1937 (as set out in section thirty-two of the Finance Act, 1947), and subsection (2) of section twenty-nine of the Finance Act, 1951 (which provide that income received from certain statutory undertakers by way of distribution of profits is not to be included in computing profits of a body corporate having a controlling interest in the undertakers, but is to be included in other cases);
- (b) subsection (3) of section forty of the Finance Act, 1947, and section forty of the Finance Act, 1957 (which make special provision as respects certain payments by nationalised undertakings);
- (c) section forty-two of the Finance Act, 1947 (which limits the profits tax chargeable in the case of a building society to two per cent. of the profits computed without deduction for interest on money borrowed from members or depositors).

(2) In the case of—

- (a) a society registered under the Industrial and Provident Societies Acts, 1893 to 1954, or under the Industrial and Provident Societies Acts (Northern Ireland), 1893 to 1955; or
- (b) a society regulated by any of the Acts regulating building societies (including Acts of the Parliament of Northern Ireland); dividends, bonuses and similar distributions to members on their shares in the society shall, in computing for the purposes of the profits tax the profits or losses either of the society or of the recipient, be treated in the same way as interest on moneys borrowed by the society.

(3) Where for any year of assessment a building society enters into arrangements under section four hundred and forty-five of the Income Tax Act, 1952, and by reason thereof income tax is not deducted from dividends or interest of any description, then for the purposes of the profits tax—

- (a) in computing profits or losses of the society for any accounting period ending in that year, the deduction to be made for any dividends or interest from which income tax is not deductible by reason of arrangements under the said section shall include an amount computed by reference to the last mentioned dividends and interest in accordance with the provision made by the arrangements with reference to dividends and interest for charging the society to income tax for the said year; and
- (b) the amount to be included in the recipient's profits in respect of any dividend or interest from which tax is not deducted as aforesaid shall be the same as if the amount actually paid or credited were the part remaining after deduction of income tax at the standard rate in force for the said year.

(4) This section shall have effect as respects any chargeable accounting period ending after the beginning of April, nineteen hundred and fifty-eight.

27.—(1) No assessment to the profits tax shall be made more than six years after the end of the chargeable accounting period in respect of which it is made, except in the following cases—

Time limit for assessments and claims for relief.

- (a) where any form of fraud or wilful default has been committed in connection with or in relation to the profits tax, and the assessment is made for the purpose of making good to the Crown any loss of tax attributable to the fraud or wilful default;
- (b) where tax for the last chargeable accounting period of a trade or business (being a period ending at or before the beginning of April, nineteen hundred and fifty-eight) is chargeable by reason of a distribution made after the end of that period, and the person assessable has not given notice in writing to the Commissioners of Inland Revenue, after the making of the distribution, that no further distribution is to be made, or, if he has, a year has not elapsed since he did so;
- (c) where a longer time is allowed for a particular class of case by the enactments relating to the profits tax other than this subsection.

(2) Any application for relief in respect of an assessment to the profits tax made by virtue of subsection (2) of section thirty-five of the Finance (No. 2) Act, 1945 (which provides for relief in respect of errors or mistakes in a return or statement made for the purpose of an assessment), shall be made not later than six years after the making of the assessment; but any notice of appeal against the determination of the Commissioners on such an application may be given within thirty days of the notification of the determination (instead of twenty-one days as provided by the Fifth Schedule to the said Act).

(3) This section shall not prevent the making of an assessment or application for the purposes of the profits tax at any time when an assessment or application can be made in respect of the same matter for the purposes of income tax under any provision enlarging for a particular class or case the time ordinarily allowed for making assessments or applications for relief.

(4) In this section “assessment” includes an additional assessment.

(5) This section shall not apply to assessments or applications for relief made before the end of the year nineteen hundred and fifty-eight, except in so far as it enlarges the time for giving notice of appeal.

PART V

ESTATE DUTY

28.—(1) Where at any time within five years before a death—

(a) there has been in any settled property an interest limited to cease on the death; and

(b) a purchase of another interest in that property expectant on or subject to the interest so limited has been made either by the deceased or out of or by means of any property which would have passed for the purposes of estate duty on his death if he had died immediately before the purchase;

then, subject to the following provisions of this section, there shall be deemed for purposes of estate duty on the death to be included in the property passing on the death (in addition to the other property, if any, so included) a sum of money equal to the amount or value of the consideration given for the purchase of that other interest:

Provided that, subject to subsections (2) and (3) of this section, where the settlement is subsisting at the death, this subsection shall not apply unless the interest purchased passes for purposes of estate duty on the death, and if it does so pass, the persons who are or would be accountable for any duty chargeable on the death in respect of it may (by notice in writing given to the Commissioners of Inland Revenue within twelve months of the death or such longer period as the Commissioners may allow) elect that neither this subsection nor subsection (10) of section seven of the Finance Act, 1894 (which provides that the same property shall not be twice charged or twice aggregated on the same death), shall have effect on the death in relation to that interest.

(2) For the purposes of the proviso to subsection (1) of this section—

- (a) where the settlement has come to an end as respects part but not the whole of the settled property, there shall be deemed to have been a separate settlement of that part; and
- (b) where at the death there are separate interests in or derived out of the interest purchased, the purchase of that interest shall be treated as having comprised a separate purchase of each of those interests.

(3) Where a purchased interest as respects which an election might otherwise be made under the proviso to subsection (1) of this section has ceased to subsist as a separate interest before the death and before the time when it was originally limited to determine, any other interest into which the interest purchased has been absorbed or enlarged shall be treated for the purposes of this section (including this subsection) as if it had been the subject matter of the purchase:

Provided that where an election under that proviso is made as respects any interest by virtue of this subsection, the value for the purposes of estate duty of that interest shall be limited to the proportion thereof attributable to the purchased interests which that interest is treated under this subsection as representing.

(4) In determining under this section the duty chargeable by reason of the purchase of an interest in settled property, any consideration for the purchase consisting of another interest under the settlement shall be disregarded, unless there has been a prior purchase of that other interest, being a purchase in respect of which duty would be chargeable on the death under this section apart from the proviso to subsection (1) and apart from this subsection; and if there has been such a prior purchase, the consideration for it shall be treated for the purposes of this section (except for the purpose of determining its value) as given not for that purchase but, in place of the said other interest, for the first-mentioned purchase.

(5) Where an interest limited to cease on a death ceases to subsist as a separate interest in consequence of any dealing with another interest expectant on or subject to it or of a dealing with that other interest and a dealing with the interest so limited, then this section shall apply to a purchase of that other interest or any interest expectant on or subject to it, as if the interest so limited had continued to subsist as a separate interest until the time when it was originally limited to determine.

(6) Where the interest referred to in paragraph (a) of subsection (1) of this section is such that on the cesser of that interest the settled property (or, if the interest purchased is an interest in part only of that property, that part of it) is to be treated for purposes of estate duty as passing to a limited extent only, then the consideration for the purchase shall be treated for the purposes of this section as reduced to a corresponding extent.

(7) Any sum deemed to pass on a death by virtue of subsection (1) of this section shall for the purpose of aggregation, or of determining the persons accountable for duty—

- (a) where the purchase was made by the deceased, be treated as having been property to which he was absolutely entitled at his death ; and
- (b) in any other case, be treated as forming part of the property out of or by means of which the purchase was made ;

but where the settlement has come to an end before the death as respects all or any of the property in which the interest purchased subsisted, section forty-four of the Finance Act, 1950 (which provides for the trustees of a settlement to be accountable for duty chargeable by virtue of section forty-three of the Finance Act, 1940, by reason of a disposition or determination of a life interest), shall apply as if the duty were chargeable by virtue of the said section forty-three in respect of the property in which the interest purchased subsisted.

(8) Section fifty-seven of the Finance (1909-10) Act, 1910 (which provides that in valuing an estate for duty purposes no allowance shall be made in certain cases for debts or incumbrances incurred or created for the purchase of an interest in expectancy), shall not apply to debts or incumbrances incurred or created for the purpose of or in consideration for a purchase made within the five years before the death of the deceased ; and where duty is chargeable by virtue of this section by reason of a purchase of an interest, and the deceased incurred any debt or created any incumbrance wholly or partly as consideration for that purchase, that consideration for the debt or incumbrance shall be left out of account for the purpose of section thirty-one of the Finance Act, 1939 (which excludes or limits the making for purposes of estate duty of an allowance for certain debts incurred or incumbrances created by the deceased for the purchase of property coming ultimately from himself).

(9) Any allowance for a debt or incumbrance, to the extent to which it could not be made apart from subsection (8) of this section, shall, where an election under the proviso to subsection (1) of this section has effect in relation to the purchase in question, be deducted from the value, on which by reason of that purchase duty is chargeable, of the interest chargeable by virtue of the election, and shall not be made otherwise.

(10) In relation to a purchase from a body of persons established for public or charitable purposes only, or from the trustees of a trust so established, references to one year before the death shall be substituted for the references in subsections (1) and (8) of this section to five years before the death.

(11) For the purposes of this section—

- (a) any transaction whereby a person for money or money's worth acquires an interest or secures its extinction for his benefit shall be deemed to be a purchase of that interest by him, and any interest extinguished shall be treated as absorbed into the interest benefiting from the extinction ;
- (b) any consideration for a purchase given otherwise than in cash shall be valued as at the date of the purchase ;
- (c) any consideration given for the purchase of more than one interest under a settlement, or for the purchase of an interest under a settlement and for something else, shall be apportioned as may be just ;
- (d) the property in which an interest under a settlement from time to time subsists (or is treated for the purposes of this section as subsisting) shall be treated as the same property, notwithstanding any substitution of one item for another or any accretion thereto.

(12) This section shall not apply where estate duty neither is chargeable on the settled property on the death by reason of the coming to an end of the interest referred to in paragraph (a) of subsection (1), nor would have been if that interest had continued to subsist as a separate interest until the time when it was originally limited to determine, or where the settled property is or, as the case may be, would have been of no principal value, or of too small a principal value for duty to be payable.

(13) This section shall have effect in relation to any purchase made after the fifteenth day of April, nineteen hundred and fifty-eight, and in relation to any such purchase shall have effect notwithstanding that the death occurs before the date of the passing of this Act.

order of deaths.

29.—(1) In all cases where, after the fifteenth day of April, nineteen hundred and fifty-eight, two or more persons have died in circumstances rendering it uncertain which of them survived the other or others, the property chargeable with estate duty in respect of each death shall be ascertained as if they had died at the same instant and all relevant property had devolved accordingly.

(2) Property shall not be deemed for purposes of estate duty to pass, or to have passed, on a person's death because on a later or simultaneous death (occurring after the said fifteenth day of April) a testamentary disposition of that property takes effect, under section thirty-three of the Wills Act, 1837, or otherwise, as if that person had survived the testator.

successions.

30.—(1) Where estate duty becomes payable on any property on a death occurring after the fifteenth day of April, nineteen hundred and fifty-eight, and the Commissioners of Inland Revenue are satisfied—

- (a) that estate duty has been payable on the same property on an earlier death occurring within five years before the later death ; and
- (b) that the person entitled to the property immediately before the later death did not acquire his title by or under a purchase for a consideration in money or money's worth made since the earlier death (whether by him or by another) ;

then, subject to the provisions of this section, the amount of the estate duty payable on the property on the later death shall be reduced as follows—

- where the earlier death occurred within three months before the later, by seventy-five per cent. ;
- where the earlier death occurred within one year before the later, by fifty per cent. ;
- where the earlier death occurred within two years before the later, by forty per cent. ;
- where the earlier death occurred within three years before the later, by thirty per cent. ;
- where the earlier death occurred within four years before the later, by twenty per cent. ;
- where the earlier death occurred within five years before the later, by ten per cent.

(2) Where the estate duty payable on a death in respect of any property falls to be reduced under subsection (1) of this section, but is payable on a greater value than the net value of the property after the earlier death, the duty shall not be reduced on an amount in excess of that net value.

(3) Relief under this section shall not be given on any death in respect of the same property by reference to more than one earlier death.

(4) This section shall have effect subject to and in accordance with the Eighth Schedule to this Act.

(5) If the enactments relating to estate duty in force in Northern Ireland make provision corresponding to this section, and include provision for giving relief by reference to duty paid under the law in force in Great Britain, then for the purpose of determining the relief (if any) to be given under this section on any death, account shall be taken of the operation of the said enactments on that or any earlier death in relation to property on which estate duty is not payable under the law of Great Britain, so that the like relief shall be given under this section as if in the case of any such property duty payable and relief allowable under the said enactments were payable or allowable under the law of Great Britain; and for this purpose any reference in the Eighth Schedule to this Act to any provision of the law of Great Britain shall include a reference to any corresponding provision of the law of Northern Ireland.

31. In section forty-four of the Finance Act, 1921, and in the proviso to subsection (2) of section forty of the Finance Act, 1930 (which provide that estate duty shall not become chargeable on certain sales to national institutions or other bodies or persons of works of art or other property previously exempted), and in any subsequent enactment extending the sales to which those provisions apply, the references to a sale shall not include a sale after the commencement of this Act otherwise than by private treaty.

auction for public collections.

32.—(1) Where a person has power to sell any property in order to raise money for the payment of any estate duty, he may agree with the Commissioners of Inland Revenue for the property to be accepted in satisfaction of that duty in pursuance of any enactment authorising its acceptance by the Commissioners; and, except as regards the nature of the consideration, and the receipt and application thereof, any such agreement shall be subject to the same provisions and shall be treated for all purposes as a sale made in the exercise of the said power, and any conveyance or transfer made or purporting to be made to give effect to such an agreement shall have effect accordingly.

satisfaction of death duty.

(2) The foregoing subsection shall not affect subsection (3) of section thirty of the Finance Act, 1953, as originally enacted or as applied by section thirty-four of the Finance Act, 1956 (which provide that the acceptance of certain works of art or other objects in satisfaction of estate duty is not to be treated as a sale so as to raise a charge of duty under subsection (2) of section forty of the Finance Act, 1930).

(3) This section shall be deemed always to have had effect, and to apply and have applied to any former death duties as it applies to estate duty.

Relief in cases of demolition or clearance
orders.

SEVENTH SCHEDULE

PROFITS TAX (TRANSITIONAL PROVISIONS)

1.—(1) Subject to the provisions of this paragraph, where, in the case of a body corporate, society or other body, the rate of dividend for any chargeable accounting period falling between the end of the standard period of that body or society and the beginning of April, nineteen hundred and fifty-eight, is less than the rate of dividend for the standard period, the gross relevant distributions to proprietors of the body or society for that chargeable accounting period shall be deemed to include an additional distribution by way of dividend computed on the amount of the paid up share capital at the end of the period at a rate equal to the difference between those rates.

(2) If in the case of any body or society there is more than one such chargeable accounting period as is mentioned in sub-paragraph (1) of this paragraph, and the rate of dividend is higher for one, and lower for another, of those periods than for the standard period, then the amount or aggregate amount to be added by virtue of that sub-paragraph to the gross relevant distributions for the period or periods for which the rate is lower shall be reduced by the amount or aggregate amount by which the dividends included in the gross relevant distributions for any of the said periods exceed an amount computed on the amount of the paid up share capital at the end of that period at the rate of dividend for the standard period.

(3) The amount to be added under the foregoing sub-paragraphs to the gross relevant distributions of a body or society for any chargeable accounting period shall not be greater than will amount, with any dividends included in those distributions, to three-fifths of the profits of the body or society for that period, computed without abatement and including franked investment income.

(4) Where a body or society has been charged to tax by virtue of sub-paragraph (1) of this paragraph, and for the period between the end of the standard period and the beginning of April, nineteen hundred and sixty (or the time, if earlier, when the body or society ceases to carry on any trade or business) both the rate of dividend and the rate of earnings are less than for the standard period, there shall be given such relief (if any) by way of repayment of tax as will secure that no more tax is charged by virtue of that sub-paragraph than would have been chargeable if the rate of dividend for the standard period had been the higher of the following rates, namely,—

- (a) the rate of dividend for the other period mentioned in this sub-paragraph; and
- (b) the rate which bears to the rate of dividend for the standard period the same proportion as the rate of earnings for the other period bears to the rate of earnings for the standard period.

(5) Where it is shown to the satisfaction of the Commissioners of Inland Revenue that for the standard period of a body or society the dividends included in the gross relevant distributions to proprietors comprised an amount of an exceptional nature, or the rate of dividend was for other special reasons (unrelated to the amount available for distribution) exceptionally high, and that in consequence that rate of dividend is inequitable as a measure of liability to tax under this paragraph, the Commissioners may direct that the rate of dividend of the body or society for the standard period shall be treated for the purposes of this paragraph as reduced to such extent as appears to the Commissioners to be just in the circumstances.

A body or society aggrieved by the decision of the Commissioners of Inland Revenue on an application for a direction under this sub-paragraph may appeal to the Special Commissioners, and all the provisions of the enactments relating to appeals against assessments to the profits tax (including the provisions enabling the Commissioners of Inland Revenue to make regulations) shall have effect with respect to any appeal to the Special Commissioners under this sub-paragraph.

(6) References in this paragraph to the rate of dividend or to the rate of earnings of a body or society for any period shall be taken as referring respectively to the monthly rate relative to the amount of the paid up share capital at the end of the period of the dividends included in the gross relevant distributions to proprietors for the period, and to the monthly rate relative to the said amount of the profits for the period computed without abatement and including franked investment income (any fraction of a month being reckoned in computing either rate as a month):

Provided that—

- (a) if the period is not a period for which accounts are made up (in this paragraph referred to as a “period of account”), the rate shall be the rate or the average of the rates for the period or periods of account in which it is comprised (any such average being taken according to the number of months or parts of a month at each rate in the period); and

- (b) the gross relevant distributions for a period of account which is not a chargeable accounting period shall be computed as if it were.

(7) For the purposes of this paragraph any amount of share capital treated by a body or society as paid up since the end of the standard period in consideration of the retention by the body or society of sums distributable by way of dividend, or in consequence of the application by the body or society to that purpose of any sums, whether distributable or not, shall be disregarded.

(8) For the purposes of this paragraph the standard period of a body or society is its last period of account for which either—

- (a) the rate of dividend cannot be affected by virtue of paragraph (a) of subsection (1) of section thirty-five of the Finance Act, 1947, by any declaration of dividends made on or after the fifteenth day of April, nineteen hundred and fifty-eight; or
- (b) the body or society in general meeting has before the said day finally decided the total amount of the dividends (if any):

Provided that—

- (i) where the length of a period of account is less than that regularly adopted for the preceding periods of account, it shall not be treated as the standard period but shall be disregarded, unless it is shown to the satisfaction of the Commissioners of Inland Revenue that the length of the period was determined before the said day; and
- (ii) where a decision as to dividends is made by a body or society in general meeting after the said day in accordance with a recommendation of the directors, and the directors' decision to make that recommendation was, with their authority, publicly announced before the said day, the decision of the body or society shall be treated for the purposes of this sub-paragraph as made before the said day.

2.—(1) Any notice given by a principal company under subsection (1) of section twenty-two of the Finance Act, 1937 (which relates to groups of companies), may, at any time within six months of the passing of this Act or such longer time as the Commissioners of Inland Revenue may allow, be revoked by that company by notice in writing to the Commissioners, and a notice given as respects more than one subsidiary may be so revoked as respects any or all of them.

(2) A notice revoked under this paragraph shall not have or be deemed to have had effect for any period after the end of March, nineteen hundred and fifty-eight, in relation to any subsidiary as respects which it is so revoked; but its revocation shall not revive any previous notice.

(3) Any election made by an assurance company under paragraph 5 of Part III of the Eighth Schedule to the Finance Act, 1947, may be revoked under this paragraph within the like time, in the like manner and with the like effect as such a notice as aforesaid.

(4) This paragraph shall not authorise the revocation of any notice given after the passing of this Act, unless the notice has effect for a period beginning before the end of March, nineteen hundred and fifty-eight.

EIGHTH SCHEDULE

Section 30.

ESTATE DUTY (QUICK SUCCESSIONS)

1.—(1) The net value after the earlier death of any property forming part of the deceased's estate at his death and transferred to a person specifically entitled thereto shall be taken to be the value on which estate duty was payable on that death, less the amounts payable out of that property in respect of death duties on that death or of liabilities of the deceased or his estate, other than amounts deducted in arriving at that value or met in the course of administration out of or by means of other property passing on the death.

(2) Property paid or appropriated on the earlier death in or towards satisfaction of legacies (other than property forming part of the deceased's estate at his death and transferred to a person specifically entitled thereto) shall be regarded as being the same as the property passing on the death and not so transferred, and any property so paid or appropriated shall be treated as being of a net value after the death equal to its value at the time when it is paid or appropriated, after allowing for any charge or incumbrance subject to which it is paid or appropriated; and similarly with property distributed on the coming to an end of a settlement (whether on the earlier death or not).

In this sub-paragraph "legacy" includes any right conferred by a testamentary disposition or arising by reason of intestacy.

(3) Any sums received on the earlier death under any policy or contract of assurance on the life of the deceased, where sub-paragraph (2) of this paragraph does not apply, shall be regarded as being the same property as that policy or contract, and to be of a net value after the death equal to the value on which duty is payable on that death, less any death duties payable thereout on that death.

(4) Save as otherwise provided, the net value after the earlier death of any property shall be taken to be the value on which estate duty is payable on that death, less any death duties payable thereout on that death.

2.—(1) Property to which the (second) deceased is at his death or has at any time since the earlier death been beneficially entitled (not being property which is or would apart from this paragraph be regarded as being property on which duty was payable on the earlier death) shall be regarded as being the same property as any sum of money received by him on the earlier death (being a sum which is or is to be regarded as being property on which duty was payable as aforesaid), if and to the extent to which it is shown to the satisfaction of the Commissioners that the property can be so regarded on the assumption that the property at any time paid away or otherwise disposed of by the deceased since the earlier death was (as far as might be) property other than that representing the said sum, or, in so far as the property retained by the deceased at his death is not sufficient to represent the said sum, that the sum was applied by him rateably in making any gifts or settlements property comprised in which is chargeable with estate duty on his death.

(2) Where the (second) deceased received on the earlier death property other than a sum of money, and before his death he has ceased to have possession and enjoyment of it in any circumstances in which he can be regarded as receiving money or money's worth in substitution for it, sub-paragraph (1) of this paragraph shall apply as if the property received by him on the earlier death had consisted of a sum of money equal to the net value of that property after the earlier death or to the amount or value (at the time when he ceased to have possession and enjoyment of that property) of what he so receives in substitution for that property, whichever is the less.

(3) References in the foregoing sub-paragraphs to a sum of money or other property being received by the deceased on the earlier death include its being received by him under a gift inter vivos in respect of which estate duty was chargeable on the earlier death and to its being received by him on the distribution under a settlement of property in respect of which duty was so chargeable.

(4) The duty to be reduced by relief given by virtue of this paragraph shall be the duty payable on any property comprised in the deceased's estate at his death, or in the gift or settlement, as the case may be, other than property in respect of which relief is given apart from this paragraph, but subject to the limit imposed on the amount of the relief by subsection (2) of section thirty of this Act.

(5) For the purposes of subsection (3) of section thirty of this Act, relief given by virtue of this paragraph shall be treated as given only on a part of the property on which the duty is reduced equal in value to the amount on which relief is given.

3.—(1) The provisions of this paragraph shall have effect where the property chargeable with duty on the later death is or has been settled property.

(2) The property at any time comprised in a settlement shall be regarded as the same property, notwithstanding any substitution of one item for another; and any reference in paragraph (b) of subsection (1) of section thirty of this Act or in this Schedule to the person entitled to property shall, in the case of settled property, be taken as referring to the persons in whom the property is vested on the trusts of the settlement.

(3) Where there has been a purchase for a consideration in money or money's worth of an interest under the settlement, relief shall not be allowed on the death of a person who acquired his title to the property chargeable (or his interest therein) by or under that purchase, except by reference to the death of another such person, nor be allowed by reference to the death of such a person, except on the death of another such person.

(4) Where on the later death the settled property is chargeable with duty by virtue of section forty-three of the Finance Act, 1940, and the settlement has come to an end before the death as respects any part of that property, then in relation to that part of the property paragraph (b) of subsection (1) of section thirty of this Act and sub-paragraph (2) of this paragraph shall apply as if any reference to a time immediately before the death were a reference to a time immediately before the coming to an end of the settlement as respects that part of the property; and relief shall not be allowed by reference to a death occurring after the end of the settlement, other than the death of the settlor or of a person who received property distributed under the settlement when it came to an end and did not acquire his title thereto by or under a purchase for a consideration in money or money's worth made at any time (whether by him or another).

(5) Where relief is allowed in a case to which sub-paragraph (4) of this paragraph applies by reference to the death of a person receiving property distributed under the settlement, and that property includes (or is treated as including) a sum of money, then—

(a) the property chargeable with duty on the later death shall be regarded as being the same as any property forming part of the said person's estate or otherwise chargeable with duty on his death to the extent to which it is shown to the satisfaction of the Commissioners that that property can be regarded as being the same property as that sum, on the assumption that the property at any time paid away or otherwise disposed of by the said person since the coming to an end of the settlement was (as far as might be) property other than that representing the said sum, or, in so far as the property forming part of his estate is not sufficient to represent the said sum, that the sum was applied by him rateably in making any gifts or settlements the property comprised in which is chargeable with estate duty on his death; and

(b) where the said person has before his death ceased to have possession and enjoyment of any property distributed to him under the settlement other than a sum of money, and has done so in any circumstances in which he can be regarded as receiving money or money's worth in substitution for it, paragraph (a) of this sub-paragraph shall apply as if the property distributed to him had included, instead of that property, a sum of money equal to the amount or value (at the time when he ceases to have possession and enjoyment of that property) of what he so receives in substitution for it.

(6) Where on the later death settled property is chargeable with duty by reason of the coming to an end of an interest limited to cease on the death (or a disposition or determination of such an interest), and relief is allowed either—

(a) by reference to an earlier death on which there passed an interest expectant on or subject to the interest so limited; or

(b) in a case to which sub-paragraph (4) of this paragraph applies, by reference to the death of a person receiving property distributed under the settlement;

the net value of the relevant property after the earlier death shall be taken to be the value on which estate duty is payable on the earlier death, except that in the case of property referred to in paragraph (a) or (b) of sub-paragraph (5) of this paragraph it shall be taken to be the amount of the sum of money there referred to.

4.—(1) The provisions of this paragraph shall have effect where property is chargeable on the later death as property comprised in a gift inter vivos made by the deceased.

8TH SCH.

(2) Paragraph (b) of subsection (1) of section thirty of this Act shall apply as if any reference to a time immediately before the death were a reference to the time when the gift is made, but relief shall not be allowed by reference to the death of any person who has acquired his title to the property in question by or under a purchase for a consideration in money or money's worth made since that time (whether by him or by another).

(3) Subject to the following sub-paragraph the property on which duty is chargeable on the later death as property comprised in the gift shall be regarded as being the same as the property originally comprised in the gift.

(4) Where the donee has died before the donor, relief shall not be allowed by reference to any death subsequent to that of the donee, and for the purpose of allowing relief by reference to the death of the donee—

(a) the property chargeable on the later death shall be regarded as being the same as—

(i) the property on which duty would have been so chargeable if the donor had died immediately before the donee; and

(ii) if that property, not being settled property, includes (or is treated as including) a sum of money, any other property forming part of the donee's estate or otherwise chargeable with duty on his death to the extent to which it is shown to the satisfaction of the Commissioners that that property can be regarded as property comprised in the gift on the assumption that the property at any time paid away or otherwise disposed of by the donee since the gift was (as far as might be) property other than that representing the property so comprised, or, in so far as the property forming part of the donee's estate is not sufficient to represent the said sum, that the sum was applied by him rateably in making any gifts or settlements property comprised in which is chargeable with estate duty on his death; and

(b) the net value after the donee's death of the property referred to in sub-paragraph (i) of paragraph (a) above shall be taken to be the value on which estate duty is payable on the donee's death, and of the property referred to in sub-paragraph (ii) shall be taken to be the amount of the sum of money in question.

5. For the purposes of section thirty of this Act and of this Schedule, a disposition for partial consideration treated as a gift inter vivos for the purpose of charging duty on the later death shall not be regarded as a purchase for a consideration in money or money's worth; but where relief is given in respect of property comprised in the gift, the net value after the earlier death of the relevant property shall be abated in the same proportion in which the value on which estate duty is payable on the later death is abated by reason of the consideration.

6. In this Schedule "death duties" includes duties payable under the law of any country or territory.
